

HAVE YOU EVER DANCED WITH YOURSELF?

Have you ever danced with yourself?

I have. I did it tonight.

Somehow, it just felt right,

Although it was dark and it was late.

I checked the weather forecast of my heart
And the climate of my soul marks: "Happiness",
An unbelievable sense of joyfulness
That will stay within me, even if we are apart.

Because we were made for each other,
"apart" simply means "I'll be right back".

It'd be silly to turn our backs

On this great combination of lovers.

Lovers in love, now and forever.
Sharing dreams and goals that we know will come true,
Since anything is possible if I am with you,
Sharing a life in which fate brought us together.

Have you ever smiled at yourself?

I have. I did it tonight.

And it feels perfectly right

To be yours and to enjoy being under your spell.

(What I'm really saying is: I'm in love...

What I'm really saying is: I love you.)
